

Testimony in support of HB 2933
House Committee on Judiciary
Submitted by Kerry Naughton, Co-Director
February 1, 2023

Chair Kropf, Vice Chairs Andersen and Wallan, and Members of the Committee:

My name is Kerry Naughton and I am the Co-Director of Oregon Abuse Advocates & Survivors in Service (OAASIS). OAASIS is a statewide organization that empowers communities to prevent child sexual abuse and help survivors live full, healthy, joyful lives. Our base is comprised of thousands of Oregonians—people who were sexually abused as children, survivors’ family members and loved ones, and community members who care about the safety, health, and well-being of survivors of child sexual abuse. We are working towards a future where all people experience a loving childhood free of abuse and trauma, and all relationships are based on respect, consent, and equity.

We are pleased to support HB 2933, $10 million for the Oregon Domestic and Sexual Violence Services Fund (ODSVS), and the lifesaving work of Oregon’s domestic and sexual violence services programs. ODSVS-funded programs are vital resources to achieve safe, healthy communities across Oregon and support survivors’ healing journeys.

At OAASIS, we know that people can heal from the trauma of child sexual abuse. This knowledge is based on scientific evidence related to trauma and resiliency, as well as the lived experiences of many survivors involved in our work. A survivor’s healing process often develops over the course of a lifetime and is often facilitated by professional support. For many people who were sexually abused as children, this support is found through Oregon’s domestic and sexual violence services programs.

For Oregonians who were sexually abused as children, the need for these holistic, trauma-informed services is great. National research indicates that 1 in 4 females and 1 in 6 males are sexually abused before age 18. An estimated 813,899 Oregonians have been (or will be) sexually abused before age 18. If every survivor stood hand-in-hand (4 feet across), the line of survivors would extend approximately 154 miles—extending from Portland, through Salem and Eugene, and reaching almost all the way to Roseburg.

Most children who are sexually abused are harmed by someone they know and trust. The abuser could be a family member, friend, or trusted person in a position of power, like a teacher or coach. For many survivors of child sexual abuse, life is not safe enough and the abuse is not understood enough to disclose the abuse until the survivor is older. This is the experience of most of OAASIS’s members.

For these courageous adult survivors of child sexual abuse, Oregon's domestic and sexual violence services programs become a lifeline of safety and support. These community-based services help survivors find safety, stay safe, and rebuild their lives. Passing HB 2933 and investing $10 million into ODSVS would allow community-based domestic and sexual violence services programs to continue to effectively and professionally serve survivors.

ODSVS is a vital resource to support survivors' healing journeys and to prevent further violence in communities across Oregon. We hope you'll join us in supporting HB 2933. Thank you for your time and consideration.
