

Submitter: Kathy Peterson

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

Measure: HB3223

In the past I personally have had to take written tests to show I was knowledgeable of being a Hair stylist and a Phlebotomist.

To my thinking this is far more important that being a dental assistant show the person is qualified verses a person having gone to school, to learn to drive a forklift.! What happened to the OTJ training for that?

Any profession dealing with people's health needs to be qualified thus assuring the patient their care is in good hands.