Measure: HB3206

Really? So the "government" won't allow 16/17 year olds to buy a beer, go off to war, get married, but ok to vote on a school board? Mind you, these folks are the population that has virtual no children of their own, and thus no stake in the outcome. This is simply socialist lefties trying to get propagandized young folks to vote their way. You'd think legislators would have something better to do like fixing homelessness, fentanyl crisis, highest crime in state history, unusually high excess death rate (think COVID shot), half of the counties want to bail on your state as you suck so bad at almost all government functions.
