I support lane filtering as a good idea for both motorcyclists and roads. For motorcyclists, lane filtering can help reduce the risk of accidents and improve overall safety. It allows riders to avoid being stuck in traffic and potentially rear-ended by a distracted driver. It can also help reduce congestion on the roads and decrease commute times. For roads, lane filtering can help reduce traffic congestion and improve the flow of traffic. Overall, implementing lane filtering laws can be beneficial for both motorcyclists and the broader community.
