"From certain air contamination sources in Oregon", page one, line eight; the Oregon Legislature is targeting energy every Oregonian uses with a special tax assessed upon the delivery of the supposed climate warming energy sectors, i.e. oil, gas, and propane, whereas, thanks to the legislature of federal and state civil servants already charge an outrageous hazmat fee for truck delivery to residential customers Co2 is less harmful than methane, but DC had no problem blowing up the Nord Stream pipelines and releasing an estimated escape of 30 years of methane. The all electric bent will not work unless the government assumes that citizens will tolerate consuming less or experiencing brown/black outs without returning to coal/NG/LP to generate electricity.

Then there is the belief that a nonprofit organization that has been approved by the Department of Environmental Quality, page one, lines 10-11 with no targets to meet or benchmarks to attain is nothing but a welfare program for their altruistic friends or their friends of friends, otherwise known as nepotism. NPOs are nothing more than a scheme to enrich directors and the NPO staff to collect executive salaries.

Climate change is a lie, do your research, there are studies and scientists that are not on the payroll/contractors of government that will tell the truth. Climate change is all about greenwashing consumerism and wheedling more money from citizen consumers. The earth has experienced many changes over centuries and survived; the climate was worse 100 years ago than it is today, in fact Co2 has been decreasing. Climate change cannot be predicted and the ocean currents that controls the atmospheric outcomes have not been studied enough to predict with 100% accuracy when the next storm will appear more than a few days or weeks in advance. Although government civil servants want citizens to believe that can predict the doom of weather events decades into the future. Fairly sure citizens are not ignorant or that gullible and the government climate change farce will be met with outrage once citizens find that the government has been gaslighting citizens into the false premise that their lapdog scientists promoted at the urging of government that were all going to burn in hellish weather on earth before our great-grandchildren can graduate from high-school. If government civil servants have a crystal ball for weather, why in the heck can government not protect citizens from all negative scenarios?

Oppose on the basis of higher energy costs, less choice of energy sector use, and government control of everything on the planet except the damage that government caused but refuses to mitigate in a timely fashion. It is so predictable that government puts the blame on citizens so their dirty pollution secrets stay in the shadows.
