Measure: SB4

For the last 50 years our land use laws have been attacked because of "urgent" economic concerns. The people who will most benefit from relaxing our laws always say it's to "promote" more jobs. The same with these semiconductors. I read that Ohio has allowed some company to build a factor on 1,000 acres of land. That will bring thousands of new jobs, presumably from people moving there.

I am happy with our current economic status. I don't want to attract another single person to this state. Let other people go elsewhere and get rich--leave Oregon land alone.
