Measure: HB3068

As a professional educator licensed in a few states, although not this one, I believe that students who have suffered extremely from lack of educational opportunities in this negative environment that has lasted several years, must be given the opportunity to catch up in whatever manner necessary and receive the degree needed for them to progress in their professional and personal goals. It is unreasonable to leave such students in a position where they can not move forward for whatever reasons. They are badly needed in positions in which they can benefit themselves and society as a whole. Burdening them with stigmas when they have demonstrated the necessary skills benefits no one.
