This is my 31st year as a Social Studies teacher at Pendleton High School. I teach Senior Civics, AP US History, and AP American Government & Politics. For most of my career I have relied heavily on materials from the Classroom Law Project. My students, over the years, have benefited greatly from the We The People texts and from participating in the Mock Congressional Hearings. Furthermore, my students have also participated in the Mock Trial Competition. Each of these activities have contributed to student's critical thinking abilities and an improvement in civic awareness and participation. I certainly hope the legislature will join me in commending the CLP for the great work they do. This organization is a true educational gem in the state of Oregon. Thank you.
