Measure: SB789

Our beautiful and biologically diverse Willamette Valley, must be protected against harmful mono crops. I own a food company in Eugene that makes food for people on anti-inflammatory medical diets, and we source exclusively from the Willamette Valley because of the quality of the products and the methods used by the farmers and ranchers. The Willamette Valley is leading the nation in uncorrupted food that is vital to our nation's health and we should continue this leadership in thought and action. Highly refined seed oils are one of the most inflammatory food items a human can consume. Let's continue to be place that's known for health, healing, and vibrancy for humans and our planet.
