

Submitter: Suzanne Price

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Rules

Measure: HB2004

In a system where the two major parties are putting forth one candidate each I can't see the point of ranked choice voting legislation. Ranked choice voting is a good idea for party primaries so that minority concerns can be demonstrated clearly and have some influence, but I gather that is not what HR2004 is about, (i. e. "and election to").