

Submitter: Leslie Kavasch
On Behalf Of:
Committee: House Committee On Judiciary
Measure: HB3214

When living beings are exploited for profit, their care goes downhill and they are seen only as a commodity. They become fearful of humans and are discarded as soon as they are no longer seen as useful. Animals should not be subjected to performing tricks for entertainment when humans are perfectly capable of making a decision on their own behalf to learn tricks to earn a living. Learn from events like Cirque du Soleil, Monster Jam, WWE, etc which prove that exploited animals are not necessary for entertainment purposes