Measure: HB2006

I am writing you today in resolute opposition to HB 2006. This measure is a feel-good measure that will do nothing to help public safety because violating the rights of adults is 1. Unconstitutional and 2. There is no data that shows that violating the civil rights of legal adults will do anything to prevent "Gun violence." You can't have it both ways if you are a legal adult at 18, they you have the same rights as any other adult. If you can defend your country, have to register for selective service, vote, and can get married you should be able to have the right to protect yourself and your family. This doesn't align with the 2nd amendment of our Constitution which states that " A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."
