This bill is evil and wrong! Children do not belong to the government and family is needed to help make decisions and guide them. I can't even imagine the level of long term damage that is going to happen to kids by removing the backstop if parental involvement. And then to eliminate the possibility if medical malpractice to the adults that make decisions on children that are not their own is absolute insanity. As a society we should be making strides to protect our children and removing the aspect of parental involvement and knowledge on important life decisions when they are young and impressionable is the exact opposite. So many kids will be harmed by this bill.
