Measure: HB2002

I am strongly against HB2002. This bill attempts to remove parental rights and deny children the parental supervisory care children need. Children are not mentally prepared to make adult decisions that often times have life-long consequences. Allowing children to make these life-changing decisions can damage a child emotionally and erode their relationships with their parents. As an Oregon Registered Pharmacist, I vehemently protest being put in the position to come between a child and their parents.
