Measure: HB2002

I wholeheartedly support House Bill 2002 and believe that it is a necessary step towards ensuring that every person in Oregon has the right to access comprehensive reproductive health care. This bill is a critical step forward in creating a future where everyone, regardless of their gender identity, sexual orientation, or socioeconomic status, has the ability to make informed decisions about their own bodies and receive the care they need.

House Bill 2002 would help to ensure everyone in Oregon would have access to a full range of reproductive health care services, including contraception, abortion, and maternal and child health care. This bill also aims to address the health disparities that many marginalized communities face when it comes to accessing reproductive health care, including people of color, LGBTQ+ individuals, and those living in rural areas.

Furthermore, this bill would protect the rights of health care providers who provide reproductive health care services by prohibiting discrimination against them based on the services they provide. This will help to ensure that providers can continue to offer these important services without fear of retribution or discrimination.
