

Submitter: Tim BlaTir

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Judiciary

Measure: HB2006

I believe to dine a law-abiding person that is eighteen years old through twenty years old the right to exercise their inalienable God giving right under the constitution and Bill of Rights is unconstitutional. If HB 2006 passes that would be just as unconstitutional as to dine a person that is eighteen through twenty their right to vote. If you can be old enough to join are Armend services at eighteen, then there should be no reason to up the age to buy a firearm to twenty-one years old.