Testimony:

I am writing in support of the Senate Building Resilience Bills. I have tried to make my home and farm resilient through solar panels, battery backup, shifting from an oil furnace to a heat pump system, water catchment, insulation, and organic gardening. We don't need to throw away homes and buildings. We need safe, efficient, lasting homes that reverse trends in global warming and we need to incentivize and promote and support this so that people will take action now.
