

Submitter: Granella Thompson

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Judiciary

Measure: SB1027

I do not believe in any person convicted of murder or aggravated murder leaving the prison grounds for any reason, the only exception being if they receive a new trial due to new evidence of innocence. The people need protected from people capable of behaving like that, the victim's families or anyone who testified against that person do not need to fear that murderer paying them a visit. Life without parole should mean exactly that, you come out of prison in a coffin. The safety of the public needs to be paramount, the rights of criminals have been set aside by their own behavior.
Granella Thompson