

Submitter: Ben Sheets

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Judiciary

Measure: HB3390

By taking away the ability to sell fur you would take all incentive for people to trap away. While some may see this as a victory the way the current system works sportsman pay the state to manage wildlife. If trapping stops when there are conflicts between people and furbearing animals the state will have to pay someone to trap those animals.