One of my concerns for warm springs is the lack of resources of any sort when something occurs (crisis). I feel like each time something happens warm springs as a whole is just coming up with ideas versus already having something in place If and when crisis happens. Crisis can be fires, water issues, day care issues, electricity issues. There was a year that seem to stand out particularly when our electricity here in warm springs kept going out and twice it lasted for a few days causing food to spoil. I am a mother to 6 raising 7 kids total in my home. Having food spoil because of electricity issues I felt there was no solution right then for days to address the matter. I myself did reach out to the folks who over see pacific power as a business but not much was done to address how many times this kept happening. I would like to see change not excuses.
