Measure: HB2007

This bill only creates more laws for those already following it. We have gone through the classes and training to become CHL holders and once again we are being met with pushback for being law abiding citizens. This will ONLY cause confusion and more uncertainty for those of us that want to legally protect our families to the best of our abilities. It is unfortunate that another bill has been generated that does nothing to stop criminals from having zero accountability, but places even more burden on those of us that believe in the law. I strongly oppose this bill.
