Measure: SB348

I am writing today In opposition to SB 348, I don't believe that a study is necessary. I'd like to ask this question why the criminal element is never addressed? I've never committed any crimes yet it's people like me and other law-abiding citizens who are held to the ever-changing higher standards and my rights slowly errored. while the criminal is not held responsible or accountable for their lawless acts of violence

The simple answer is to go after the criminals and impose higher bail on violent offenders, end early release for violent offenders, and enforce the laws that are already on the books. Actions should have consequences. If a violent offender is in jail, they will not have guns
