Another day, another school shooting, the 33rd so far this year. Seriously, why are simple safeguards to help prevent the number one cause of children's death in this country so unpalatable to the NRA goons? This is simple, and it doesn't infringe on that simplistic and misguided allegiance to the second amendment claimed by the zealots, it's time to stand up to their tyranny. How many more children and families must suffer until we find our moral compass?
