

Submitter: Kyle Wieland
On Behalf Of:
Committee: House Committee On Judiciary
Measure: HB3390

First, I would like to thank you for reading my testimony.

HB3390 has implications that far exceed the banning of fur sales in Oregon. My opposition rests at the failure to recognize that trapping is an essential tool for ODFW to maintain healthy populations of wildlife and gathering data for research. Sale of legally taken fur from licensed trappers has no implications to Oregonians, due to the fact, biologists have determined the management levels of wildlife.

In my opinion, sale of fur ensures animals are not dispatched and just left to rot.

I would also like to take time and point out this bill is just another example of the divide of balance in Oregon. As an Oregonian, I'm embarrassed by our State being in the national spotlight (Greater Idaho) for not having any sort of balance between the rural and urban areas. I ask each and every member of the House of Representatives to seek out balance and have the State of Oregon have the goal of becoming one together and not division. Seek balance please!

Thank you!

The only reason this is a rest at people that do not like the idea of which biolog