Measure: HB3501

There is a fine line between empathy and enablement, and you, public servants meant to serve for the collective good, are leaping over the line and enabling folks that do not care about the collective good. Please consider the negative impact measures like this create, and how much harder you make livability in Oregon. It won't be long before Oregon becomes a state of lawlessness, considering how legislation continues to make it nearly impossible for members of law enforcement do exactly that: enforce the law. Do better.
