

Submitter: Pat K

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Education

Measure: SB767

NO SB 767

Parents should have a choice as to where they send their children to school. Public schools are not necessarily a good fit for all children and parents should be able to send their children where they see fit.

If a parent is satisfied with what the public school in their district offers them, they are free to send their child to that school. Why should a parent not be free to have other options?

Declaring this "an emergency" of course will keep the people from challenging SB767 in a referendum election. Are public schools afraid of competition or is this about keeping the teachers' union happy?