

Submitter: Nina Council

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Labor and Business

Measure: HB3213

There are no excuses for testing cosmetics on innocent animals. There are a number of companies who do not test which means that those who do are simply unaware, and totally desensitized to the agony, torture and deaths imposed on mostly innocent bunny rabbits. This situation is disgraceful and must be halted immediately. It is simply ignorance on the part of the companies who continue these tortures or is it again about money. Please be sure to get testing on animals ban once and for all.
