Measure: HB3501

In recent years we have seen incredible hurdles created in our housing market. Rent prices have skyrocketed and the ability to buy a home seems unattainable for many. The resulting economic instability and homelessness brought on by this and the many additional factors is clearly seen throughout our communities. To criminalize those who are seeking the ability to rest is not an answer to this community challenge. Please support this bill and give those who are experiencing these hardships a chance to rest so that they can continue to find pathways forward to more sustainable and equitable solutions for their wellness.
