Measure: HB3501

I'm tired, I'm tired of always doing the right thing, I have faced hardships in my life and could have chose to worsen the situation, or improve my life by the positive choices I chose to make. Everywhere I look, I continue to see the houseless enabled. The government has made it so easy to live wherever you want no matter who it impacts or what the homeless encampments bring with them; garbage, pollution, drugs, crime, public nudity, the list goes on.... Millions and millions of dollars gets funneled into this ongoing issue. It won't be long for more and more people to start questioning why they continue to work and have their tax money fund nothing that they stand for and they too will become homeless. I have saved money for years and years and years, my only dream is to buy a house, there has been no help to middle class families priced out of the housing market.
