

Rural Industrial Improvement Property Tax Exemption Renewal

SB 138 / HB 2062

The Rural Industrial Improvement Property Tax Exemption is another economic development tool which encourages industrial improvement and investments in rural Oregon, creating new jobs and helping to provide a sustainable economy.

Klamath County Economic Development Association (KCEDA) supports giving local government the tools to encourage economic growth in rural Oregon. Agriculture is a significant economic contributor to Klamath County and implementation of the renewal of this property tax exemption program will continue to support this portion of our economic development.

KCEDA supports this Rural Industrial Improvement Property Tax Exemptions and encourages legislative renewal through the passage of SB 138 or HB 2062.
