Measure: SJR26

To whom it may concern:

Oregon taxpayers deserve to receive their hard earned money back. Oregon already overspends and taxes, citizens and businesses into poverty. The very least they could do is send any surplus back to these taxpayers to help out with their daily expenses. Wouldn't it be better for Oregon's economy if those taxpayers had that money in their pocket to spend? Rent and housing costs in Oregon are ridiculous, but having more of your money in your pocket could help provide for your family. Especially if it is money that you earned not money that is given to you by social programs. As a family of 5 with two wage earner's it sure would be nice to get the surplus back. I don't want it to go to other wasteful state programs! I have worked for the public sector in Oregon for 30+ years and they are all so incredibly wasteful with their money! If I ran my household budget like they run this state, I would be living in a tent!!

So disappointed that this is even on the table!!

Signed

A disappointed Oregonian
