- Detriments of three-year solicitation requirement
- Other applicable public contracting provisions

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Oregon's Public Employees' Benefit Board (PEBB) contracts for and administers benefits for approximately 140,000 eligible state employees and their dependents. The Oregon Educators Benefit Board (OEBB) provides benefit plan options to 79 percent of Oregon's education-based entities, including 93 percent of K-12 school districts, 46 percent of charter schools and education service districts, and 100 percent of community colleges, as well as seven of the state's local governments. OEBB currently provides benefits for almost 150,000 individuals, including actively employed and retired members and their families. In 2017, the Legislative Assembly passed Senate Bill 1067 which introduced a number of state government workforce cost containment measures, including adding a requirement that PEBB and OEBB solicit bids for actuarial or technical support at least every three years.

House Bill 3140 would remove the requirement that the Public Employees' Benefit Board and Oregon Educators Benefit Board solicit new bids for actuarial or technical support every three years.
