We have seen kids come into our church addicted to flavored tobacco. They try it because it appeals to their senses without considering the harm that is done to them physically. The maturity level and processing abilities of most teens is based on senses and desires. Very often they have not learned self control in the areas of healthy lifestyles. Young people these days do not need added destructive things thrown in their paths. It's time we watched out for our kids. Over the money that is made by tobacco,
