BACKGROUND:

The Oregon Promise program was created by Senate Bill 81 \(2015\) and is the state's second-largest, state-funded financial aid program. Oregon Promise grants are available to Oregon high school graduates or students who pass the General Educational Development (GED) test, subject to certain eligibility requirements, and provides financial assistance for tuition and fees at Oregon community colleges. The Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) administers the program and issues a biennial report that analyzes the program's progress and impact. ORS 341.522, which governs the Oregon Promise program, requires students to enroll in community college courses within six months of graduating high school or passing the GED test.

At the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, colleges and universities saw a dramatic decline in enrollment nationwide. According to data from the National Student Clearinghouse, the decline was greatest among community colleges, which saw a 8.7% decrease in enrollment in fall 2020 and a further 6.9% decrease in fall 2021. In Oregon, the total number of students attending Oregon community colleges declined from 115,104 in 2019 to 88,247 in 2020, and continued to decline in 2021 and 2022, according to student data from HECC. A HECC report on 2023 enrollment trends showed that while enrollment at Oregon community colleges is rising, with a 7.3% increase in total enrollment and a 5.8% increase in full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment in fall 2023, enrollment numbers remain below pre-pandemic levels.
