Measure: HB4044

Based on scientific data, we know there are significant and densely populated portions of Oregon in earthquake zones. Scientific predictions indicate an earthquake is imminent and has the potential to cause massive destruction.

Please support this study so responsible governments, businesses, and non-profits will have data upon which to develop their plans to address public safety needs. As representatives of the people, we need for you to support the development of informed, pro-active planning for the inevitable environmental, earthquake caused, crisis.

Thank you.
