Measure: SB1503

Root key cause is a government that has actively driven people into a state of despair by enacting bad laws. This is what is driving suicide rates. Stop the rate of suicide. Fix a broken government and you will fix the problem. Stop the influx of illegal immigrants that cost billions of dollars to taxpayers who can't afford it. This causes homelessness, depression, and no vision for a brighter future.

Suicide and the means of how it is performed is not the problem. Suicide is the problem. A person determined to kill themselves will always find a means of doing it.

Trying to say that if guns weren't available suicide rates would drop is a moronic statement. Someone intent on doing harm to themselves will find another means. I would much rather they harm only themselves and not other people by doing something like crossing the white line into an oncoming vehicle.

I have complete empathy for people that fall into such despair that they feel ending their life is the only way out. What we need is better mental health treatment. The money wasted on going after guns which is the actual goal in this bill would be better off spent on fixing our budget problems and opening more mental health facilities.

We the people that you were supposed to represent are not as gullible as you would like us to be. Stop your nonsense and do the right thing.
