Measure: SB1583

I support this bill because every Oregonian and especially every Oregon child deserves to see their experiences reflected in the books and other media in their schools. They deserve to read about the diverse experiences of the people who contributed to the evolution of this state, country, and world and to have the full breadth of those contributions recognized. They also deserve to have up-to-date materials that reflect a current, inclusive understanding of the world. This bill would go far in support in supporting children to grow with confidence and compassion.
