It is tough enough for many seniors and lower income people to pay their taxes now, and we know that taxes will go through the roof and services will be diminished to all parts of the state except Portland. We are tired of Portland dictating to the rest of us while they throw the money away. For example, since the state has taken over doling out the money for schools instead of allowing the patrons of each district decide, the education of our kids has deteriorated. The same will happen if the bureaucrats in the state government control public safety in all areas. We need people to remain here, not leave because of the high taxes. Stop raising Taxes. Let those that choose to live in high crime areas pay their own bills.
