Measure: HJR201

With cost of groceries over doubling, gas prices thru the roof, now you want more and more unlimited property tax??? Are you nuts?? You are going to reach a point where working families have no choice but to move out to a less taxed state, and anyone with have a brain can say when there is not enough working families left to support your budget there will be no one left to support your needless spending. We are tired if the tyrant acts...what happened to putting it to a vote??? You are getting to big for your britches.
