I am very opposed to sexually explicit and confusing gender books being in our libraries and schools for young adults and children to view. Let kids be kids-protect their innocence, stop the grooming, and definitely do not make it discrimination to take these books out of our schools! If a stranger walked up to my child and started quoting some of these explicit books or showing them the pictures, they could be arrested for sexual harassment. Why then is it ok for school teachers and librarians to do it? Teach the basics and keep gender ideologies out of curriculum!
