

I am writing to oppose Oregon State level property tax. The State should be doing everything in its power to resuscitate the economy since the pandemic. This move would certainly suppress economic growth significantly, and will probably cause more people to flee the state.

If the goal is to bleed the host slowly, this would put the state in danger of killing the host (the taxpayer/ small business) and thus would collapse the parasitic government structure completely.