Measure: HJR201

My husband and myself are retired and on social security. He's a retired Navy veteran and legally blind. We are retired and living the dream. This tax increase endangers our dream. With other costs greatly increased in just the last year. We aren't extravagant or anything but our bills have risen expediently in the last couple of years. Democrats talk about battling homelessness while passing this tax would increase homelessness. Hurting everyone on fixed incomes and raising rents. No matter how you view this it is not a solution but rather a bad idea with consequences that aren't necessary.
