Committee: Senate Committee On Health Care

Measure: HB4130

What we're witnessing is a perversion of the intent of law designed to protect medical decision making of physicians, who take an oath to their patients, from executives, whose oaths are to shareholders. There are irreconcilable motivations between first doing no harm and maximizing profit that are recognized in the law. But, the exploited loopholes that make a mockery of corporate structure were not anticipated by legislatures past. It's time to shore up and restore the doctor-patient relationship, free from perverse pressures.
