With Oregonians already struggling financially, having to make difficult decisions on what to cut from their budget and provide for their families, how can can our Governor and legislature be so out of touch with its constituents to even consider adding another tax? We are all finding ways to do things economically, cutting non-essential items from our personal budgets so we can make it through. It's time for our state government to do the same. No more taxes!!! Find ways to cut non-essential items from the budget. Maybe that means you have to let some government workers go. Cuts are never fun, but if Oregonians can't afford it why do our state legislators and governor stubbornly insist on cutting nothing AND increase spending? It's nonsensical.
