I am a lifelong resident of Oregon, in fact have always lived in Coos county, my parents were born here. I want to retire but the cost of almost everything is so high, especially transportation related services, that I just can't financially see the way to retirement. I want to spend my later years here in the place that has been my lifetime home, but if taxes and other costs just keep rising, I may have to think about moving to another state where I can live more affordably.
