Having traveled on roads around the United States I have to say Oregon roads are some of the best cared for roads I have driven over. There's still room for improvement. Transportation around Oregon is crucial for everyone. Jobs are important and maintaining and improving our roads creates jobs. Keep Oregon money in Oregon. We need more housing as well with streets and pedestrian friendly places.

I had to get a windshield repair this week because a rock hit it near mile post 116 northbound on I-5. When I reported it to my insurance agent, she told me the freeways aren't being cleared of debris recently. Not only is this becoming an issue of cost and inconvenience, it's a safety issue.

No Oregon money should be given to the Federal government now. Using our money and resources to commit crimes against our residents is unconscionable and has to stop.

Please step up and keep working for our people.

Sincerely,

Jenny Chism
