Before we just start throwing taxing fuel and raising income taxes around how about we do a full audit of ODOT and figure out why it's running in a deficit. Just like every Oregon household has to budget spending to be sure they can sustain and maintain. Wouldn't we do the same as a state run entity? I know taxes are a quick and easy answer but breaking the backs of the hard working people of Oregon because of inefficiency in a department seems like an extreme act.
