I am a 68 year old woman who is on a fixed income. Everytime taxes gets raised, I have to figure out what to cut. I live on a budget and live within my means. I am more fortunate than a lot of seniors. Right now, I don't have to take a job at burger king or Walmart to make it through each month, but that is coming. If Oregon would quit paying for women to travel to our state for abortions, quit supporting illegal immigrants, and hold agencies accountable to their mission which is to support (and I don't mean free handouts) the citizens by doing their jobs, we would be at the top of liveable places in the country to live. I will bet that if the Governor gets her way, more people will quit registering their vehicles, more crime will happen with people stealing gas, and those who don't live off of welfare but struggle paycheck to paycheck will see more of their money go to taxes than clothes on their kids back, food on the table. We are a State where many of our kids already have food insecurity, now if you raise taxes it will only get worse.
