Hello,

I am voicing my opposition to this new road tax consideration and beg you to reconsider. The cost of living in Oregon has only continued to get higher and higher when it seems like other places in the US are leveling out and getting better (energy costs, gas, groceries, housing).

Personally, I drive for a living and am all over the Portland Metro and Salem Metro areas on a very regular basis working with my customers trying to make a living. I cannot bear yet ANOTHER raise to my taxes and expenses to try to keep ahead with the costs associated to living in this beautiful state.

Please reconsider this and oppose the new road tax!

Sincerely, Concerned Lifelong Oregonian
