

Submitter: Alexandra Griego

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Labor and Business

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB916

Unions are the ONLY thing preventing workers from being taken advantage of by their employers right now. Strikes are by far the most effective way to bring about positive change in an organization, and people should not have to choose between being able to afford to live or working under increasingly unlivable circumstances. If the government genuinely cares about its local workers more than the detached company shareholders, they need to support this measure.